

Readme

The World Scientific style/template document for L^AT_EX2e, allow authors to prepare manuscripts that can be brought directly into the World Scientific production process for camera-ready titles.

The L^AT_EX2e class file and the sample coded files are located on the website in ZIP format called ws-procs11x85_2e.zip. Once unzipped successfully, you will find the following files:

Filename	Purpose
procs-readme11x85_2e.pdf	Preliminary guide.
ws-procs11x85.cls	Main class file.
ws-procs11x85.bst	BIBT _E X style file.
ws-pro-sample.bib	Sample BIBT _E X database.
procs-fig1.eps, procs-fig2.eps	Sample EPS figures for LaTeX users.
procs-fig1.pdf, procs-fig2.pdf	Sample PDF figures for PDFLaTeX users.
ws-procs11x85.tex	Main T _E X file with sample text.
ws-procs11x85.pdf	Style guide, PDF version of ws-procs11x85.tex.
cite.sty	Compressed, sorted lists of superscript numerical citations.
ws-rotating.sty	Sideways / Landscape tables and figures.

ws-procs11x85.tex, is the sample file coded in L^AT_EX2e to enable authors to use it as a template and for ready reference.

Getting Help

Although a lot of effort has been put in to keep the document style easy to use and provide a concise description of the most common aspects of style, it is of course possible that authors encounter problems. Also authors might have suggestions for improvement. In those cases they can email their comments and suggestions to either of the following:

ykoh@wspc.com.sg,

rajesh@wspc.com.sg